Before You Give Up The Keys: Create a Roadmap for Transportation Independence

The National Association of Area Agencies on Aging (n4a) and Eldercare Locator understand the importance of staying connected to family, friends and the broader community to enjoy the benefits of aging in place. However, we often associate our ability to live independently with our ability to drive. So what happens if you are no longer able to drive?

Follow this link to explore and plan for transportation options in your community so you can maintain your independence.
