American Institute for Cancer Research (AICR) has developed CancerResource™ to answer many of the basic questions which arise with a diagnosis of cancer. It provides information that can help a cancer patient be an active part of his or her treatment and of the many important decisions that come with fighting cancer. It also provides information about other resources available for additional information and support.

CancerResource™ programs are available for 4 specific cancers:

- Breast Cancer
- Lung Cancer
- Colon Cancer
- Prostate Cancer

CancerResource™ can be viewed online or downloaded from the website (PDF).
